All HSCP staff will view the referral on Microstrategy.

Staff communications survey 2020

Thank you to all of our colleagues who have already shared their views via the staff communications survey

For those of you who would like to take part, there is still time for you to tell us which communication channels work well for you and which ones don't.

Your help will enable us to ensure our channels and the information we share is helpful, of interest and is delivered in the most engaging way.

The survey will only take a couple of minutes and we ask that you are completely honest in your views – if something doesn't work, please tell us!

The survey will be available until mid-August and shortly afterwards, we will publish the findings via Core Brief.
