

Daily update (31 July 2020, 3.35pm)

Topics in this Core Brief:

- Staff communications survey
- Updated staff FAQs

Staff communications survey 2020

Over the coming months, your Corporate Communications Team will be carrying out a review of NHSGGC's communication activity. This will include the type of information we share with you, from news to staff stories and the way in which we share it.

The first step is to get your views about what you feel works and more importantly, what doesn't. What do you think about existing channels such as Core Brief or the NHSGGC website? Should we consider new ways of communicating and sharing your stories, for example, using podcasts or video blogs?

So that we can get your views, today we are launching a short survey and in the coming weeks, we will invite you along to some focus groups to learn more. The participation and commitment of all our staff will help us to gain a better understanding of how people really feel and your cooperation will help us to ensure our channels and information we share is helpful, of interest and is delivered in the most engaging way.

The survey will only take a couple of minutes and we ask that you are completely honest in your views – if something doesn't work, please tell us!

The survey will be available until mid-August and shortly afterwards, we will publish the findings via Core Brief.

To take the survey, please click here.

Updated staff FAQs

We have updated our staff frequently asked questions to include a number of areas, including new guidance on shielding and self-isolating. Click here to access.

Please keep up-to-date with the latest guidance on our dedicated web pages at: www.nhsggc.org.uk/covid19. If you have any questions about the current situation please check the FAQs first. If you have any further questions, please email: staff.covid19@ggc.scot.nhs.uk

Staff are reminded to make sure their personal contact details are up to date on eESS.