Having Future Care Planning Telephone Conversations

What is Future Care Planning?

Future Care Planning is a person-centred, proactive approach to help people to plan ahead and to be more in control and able to manage any changes in their health and wellbeing.

At the heart of this is a conversation between individuals, those people who are important to them, for example a relative or carer, and their health or social care professional.

What is a Future Care Plan?

The decisions made during these conversations are recorded in a Future Care Plan.

The plan should include:

- reflections on an individual's situation and priorities in the context of their health
- information about specific treatments or care that would be appropriate for an individual, when they would consider or accept this care, and where they would like to be cared for
- information on who should be involved in supporting future decisions about treatment and care.

Why am I being asked to phone people?

We know that many staff have been identified as a close contact by the Test and Protect process and as a result are now required to isolate. Whilst this means many services are under extreme pressure to continue to provide face to face support, there is now extra capacity in the system for staff to carry out tasks which can be completed remotely e.g. beginning to engage with people and their families about future planning.

By ensuring we know what people's wishes and preferences are, we can make the right decisions if emergency situations arise. This includes whether or not they would wish to be admitted to hospital or prefer to receive treatment elsewhere if possible.

What are my responsibilities?

Review Case Load: All services should continually review their case load to establish if people have a Future Care Plan on Clinical Portal. If staff are isolating at home they should be instructed by their Line Manager as to which cases should be reviewed.

Start the Conversation: If no Future Care Plan has been recorded, staff should contact the person to begin to explore future planning. This may involve asking them to think about specific aspects of their care or reflect on their current experience. It may also be an introductory conversation about the benefits of future planning and signposting people to further information such as Power of Attorney (www.nhsggc.scot/planningcare). In cases where people indicate that they would like to look over additional information and speak with those that matter to them, staff should ensure this is recorded on case files in order for future isolating staff to follow up with further conversations.

Record the Information: If people give their consent, information should be recorded in the Future Care Plan Summary on Clinical Portal. For staff who have no access to Clinical Portal at home, they can use the PDF version and transfer information onto Clinical Portal at the next available opportunity. A guide to using the Future Care Plan Summary can be found on the back of this page.

Revisit the Situation: For those who already have a Future Care Plan, staff can check with the person to ensure information is correct and up to date.

Where can I find more information?

Visit www.nhsggc.scot/planningcare to find further information about all aspects of future planning including Future Care Plans and Power of Attorney.

You can also find training opportunities including an eModule which all staff should complete (also available on Learnpro GGC028: Future Care Planning).

Using the Future Care Plan Summary - what information to document.
