

90 Minute Leadership

OD recognise the challenges our leaders have in managing time constraints and setting aside time for development activities. Short, intensive development sessions can be a useful way of learning. Rather than spending a full day covering a relatively wide range of topics, our "90 Minute" leadership sessions will focus on specific topics, concentrating on key issues rather than the broader picture. The next session is:

"Managing Conflicting Agendas"

In an ideal world everyone is heading in the same direction, aiming to achieve mutually beneficial results. Unfortunately, the world is far from ideal. Facing up to the uncomfortable reality of agendas that clash is a necessary aspect of successful leadership and organisational performance. The session will explore this difficult topic and help you to:

- Understand the reality of the conflicts you are facing
- Apply simple frameworks to analysing conflict situations
- Enter the mindset of your opposition
- Learn how to build extraordinary levels of trust
- Foster maximum levels of collaboration and problem-solving
- Handle negative politics with integrity.

Taking on this tough topic in a high-trust manner will help you to build confidence and results that maximise collaboration, speed, and goodwill.

Colin Gautrey, the leader of this session, is an international specialist on the subject of power and influence. He has trained senior level leaders in NHS GG&C. He will lead you through the processes, share his experiences, and help you to apply them to your work and career.
